Details: About karen romanchuk Karen received her first guitar from her parents at the age of six. Learning theory from a Conservatory music teacher and taking lessons from a variety of musicians who dared to venture out to the boonies of flatland Milo, Alberta, she began her lifelong passion for music. Starting out, like many before her, in the small town church choir and moving on to opening for the likes of Alannah Myles, Colin James, Gaye Delorme, Willie P. Bennett, Jake Mathews, Dave Gunning and Rob Szabo she continued to play the club scene across the Western provinces. A respect for a variety of different musical artists shows in her live set list, ranging from folk, roots and blues mixed in with her original material. This is a singer/songwriter you don't want to miss!
