Details: About the Artist: Melanie Stewart is a classically trained pianist who has played the piano since the age of 3. Her mother was a classical pianist and her father a jazz pianist. She teaches piano/composition in her recording studio and composes and produces music in Miami, Florida. This album debuts her piano/vocal abilities in a collection of original lyrical melodies and words. About the Album: Lyrical means expressing deep personal emotion, in a direct and affecting manner. That is the intention of these songs. To connect to you from my experience and relate to you on a personal level in your life. About the Title: Stones on a Walkway..your path in life...how many licks it takes to get to the center...your path may be one of pain and suffering and licks to get to the center or your path may be one of enlightenment. Either way, you eventually get to the center. About the Cover: The image of torture and pain to get to the heart. Behind bars and between walls that block you from true happiness. Ok...Hi...I am so excited to share my music with you! 2007-2009 were tumultuous years, from which these words and melodies came to life. Thank you to all the beautiful people in my life that shaped my experiences and helped me create this work. Love, Melanie aka "Firebush, Truffle Pig, sugar Beans, Mel Mel"
