With her meaningful lyrics and catchy hooks, she is definitely a rising star. Born in Houston, the hazel eyed songbird, Rose recognizes a number of influences including her mother who told her "Your dedication and drive will set you apart from the others," and this has proven to be true. At the tender age of 6, she began to sing in church choirs as well as her fathers recording studio. Aware of her amazing ability her father began to require that she wrote a song twice a week at the young age of 10. Through out her high school years she took advantage of solo's while in Choir as well as choreographing dance routines for the schools dance squad. In 2003 she linked up with her producer and mentor Antonio "Tizone" Street who has worked with artist such as Keith Sweat, R. Kelly, Mary J. Blige and countless others. Rose attributes her producer Tizone for her abilities. "Tizone spent so much time with me, he became the closest thing to vocal training I received," Rose recalls. "Tizone is a true producer, he helped me create and advance as a writer and singer." Rose states. When you place these two people in a room together it's dynamic, and they compliment each other wonderfully. Tizone states "Rose is the type of artist that every producer loves to work with..." and it couldn't have been said any better. Along with her beautiful voice and fresh look and abundance of talent, Rose is ready to explode on to the scene and take this industry by storm. She said it best "I was born a star and I don't know how to be anything else..." With that being said it's obvious that all though there are many imposters, she is definitely the real thing!
