It worked! The compositional goals of the CD: Was to create a unique signature sound, using an array of instruments I love and played by people I adore Produce a sound that if I walked by it coming out a speaker, Id want to know who the artist was Was to write songs for my friends to sing without being concerned about restricting my self to any specific style. The need I had originally felt to limit my self to a particular style kept me kept me from making a CD for years. Was to be more concerned about the music then about perfection., the sacred flaw concept (Sacred Flaws, look for tune with that tile one of my next projects ;-)

Some of the musicians are better known then others David Darling David Darling, encouraged me to make the CD. David Darling is a renowned Cellist, ECM recording artist .etc. He plays on the following tracks: o Here in this moment o Brazil o Tired o Weary Angle o East Coast Land o Tar River For more information about David daviddarling.com/ Buddy Charlton Buddy is a pedal Steel legend, a member of the, original member of Ernest Tubs Texas Troubadours He plays on the following tracks o Brazil o Weary Angle o Tar River Here is a track from buddy on you tube youtube.com/watch?v=ViY2WXvVXYU

Songs Here in this moment o All about being stuck in traffic Brazil o A shout out to musician and musical scenes I love Tired o When I wrote this song with the sound Joe Cocker was singing it in the my head, strange but interesting, well at least interesting to me. Is Love Real o A cute little swing tune asking the eternal question Weary Angle o Corny, but true, I was saved from running over a kid on a bike, I was saved when bullets.... well they didnt hit the ground but the building East Coast Land o I woke up one morning, while dinking my tea it suddenly occurred to me that I never head an east coast beach song.. I decided to write one, and since I had the changes of that old standard you dont know what love is stuck in my head, that is where I started. o I did scratch vocal takes for all tunes. . My dear friend Eric who is the lead male voice on the CD refused to re-do this one, he said he couldnt phrase it the same way as me, and he dismissed my concern about having another lead male voice on one of the tracks. o . His support and encouragement helped me start my journey to get over my fear of singing. I plan to sing all the tracks of my next album Change o Is all about that wonderful saying that Women marry men thinking they will change and they dont, and men marry women thinking they wont change and they do. o Guest vocalist Xantha Xantha is part of the emerging neo-soul scene in Atlanta, I love her voice, It was joy to have her on the track. More info on Xantha can be found at Xanthamusic.com Tar River o On of the few weird tacks that came out well enough to make the CD. o To me this song accurately captures a dream I had. There is a Tar River, it is in North Carolina o I love Buddys playing. I particularly enjoyed him playing over the 7/4 reggae section in Tar river. It was a music lesson to be there when he listened to it a few times and absorbed the odd meter feel. It was also fun for me to see his reaction to the instructions to play what every he wanted. Late at Night o another tune from my jazzy catalog o My favorite memory of this tune, is recording the vocal ensemble section with my co-producers in a tiny cabin on the campus of Omega institute in upstate N.Y. o I hope that somehow the joy we experienced when we did the vocal ensemble section in one take, comes across, I decided not to do another take and trust that somehow what I feel when I listen to it translates.
