Pop with rock, house, R&B, latin, soul, and country influences 12 MP3 Songs POP: Pop/Rock, ROCK: Soft Rock Details: Over the last few years you couldn't turn your radio daily in certain parts of Europe without hearing a hit by the international pop superstar Tomas N'evergreen. The singles "Since You've Been Gone" and "Everytime (I See Your Smile)" were on top ten lists through out Eastern Europe for more than a year and are still staples on FM radio. His debut album "Since You've Been Gone" was a huge smash especially in Russia where it topped the charts and sold hundreds of thousands of units. Not bad for the once relatively unknown artist known to his friends home in Denmark as Tomas Christiansen. Proving that the cream does rise to the top. The album achieved this success without any promotion. Tomas's record lable Mega was bought out by the German company Edel and a decision was made not to promote the release. This bit of bad news was enough to make Tomas's co- producer and musical colaborator Jacob Johansen leave the project. Tomas determined to share this extra-ordinary album with the world continued on as a solo act. The album was meticulously recorded over a two year period in Europe and America with some of the world's finest musical talent supporting Tomas. Strings were provided by the Budapest Symphony Orchestra, backing vocals were done by singers who back Stevie Wonder. The multi talented Tomas also pulled a trick out of Stevie Wonders handbook by playing all the instruments on the smash single "Since Youve Been Gone". The albums mixing was done by the Los Angeles technician John Van Nest who mixed Michael Jackson's History album and at times can hear the influence of Michael Jackson on the record. Somehow, someway the first single caught on in Russia and the rest you could say is pop history. To think Tomas's musical began his career giving his parents concerts as a child banging on a drum kit made of paint cans and pots and pans! Tomas has followed up the success of the album with the hit singles "Just Another Love Song", and "She Believes in Gold" and he is continuously on tour through out the world. Tomas is currently in the studio putting the finishing touches on his eagerly anticipated follow up album to "Since Youve Been Gone. Release is expected in early 2007. Vincent Bator
