Groovy Blog Description Groovy Blog is part of the Groovy Series and is another colourful, funky theme this time aimed at personal bloggers. The customizable home page showcases your blog posts in a neat tabber and your uploaded images in a js gallery component. Unique Features These are some of the more unique features that you will find within the theme: A Home Page tabber showcasing specific categories A Home page js scroller displaying latest image uploads Header space for either Twitter module or ad banner A completely widgetized sidebar with custom widgets included in the theme packaging. No third party widgets required; and 17 amazing color schemes to choose from! Standard Features These features are probably just as special as the ones above, but you'll find these standard features within most of our wide range of themes: Integrated Theme Options (for WordPress) to tweak the layout, color scheme etc. for the theme; Threaded Comments for WordPress 2.7+; Custom Page Templates for Archives & Sitemap; Built-in Gravatar Support for Comments; and Integrated ad spaces, which can accommodate both image banner ads or AdSense embeds.
