When her Dad put that piano in the basement of their home, it captured her attention and when she started to pick out tunes at age 6, Janets parents pursued a teacher. Since then, the love of music and the desire to share her abilities has been the motivation for her work in various aspects of performing, accompanying vocal groups and soloists, writing and arranging music, and in teaching. Performing for over 25 years, Janet is now a full-time musician playing professionally for Restaurants, Country Clubs, Corporate events, Weddings, Life-care Centers, Churches, Private Parties, Open Houses, as well as presenting solo Concerts. Music can give encouragement, express emotion, and provide a sense of peace. It really reaches the heart when nothing else will. I feel very blessed to be able to use the gift of music to bring enjoyment to others. '" Janet Walters
