Details: Born December 1982, in Fort Worth, Texas, Ashley AKA Sasha was soon after adopted by a loving family in Minneapolis, Minnesota, and given the chance to blossom into the creative and gifted young woman she is today. Her exceptional talent in many areas of the arts, primarily music, has resulted in numerous opportunities for her to showcase her abilities. While she has composed and recorded more than 100 song ideas and produced over 500 original beats in recent years, her performing career actually started as a young child. She began as a member of the Flossmoor Community Church Cherub Choir, and later participated in church- and school-sponsored talent shows, school musicals, Christmas pageants, and self-organized community performances. Several of these performances were even written and directed by Sasha herself; the first hint that her talents in the musical field went beyond just performing. As a teenager growing up in Chicago and later moving to Pittsburgh, Sashas performances continued with greater sophistication. These included several soloist opportunities in church-sponsored events, nursing home holiday concerts, and others. She was an integral member of the nationally acclaimed North Allegheny Senior High Jazz Choir, was lead female singer in the Kwanzaa Clubs production of the musical Days Gone By, and organized her own hip-hop/R&B group (Lo, High, and Mightee). She maintained her activity in a number of other choirs, as well as in Umoja Club, a group that organized various musical events as a vehicle to promote racial unity in schools. In spite of the wide number of performances, she kept focused on her studies, with an outstanding academic record at an extremely demanding school, North Allegheny

Senior High, from which she graduated in 2001. Since then, Sasha has maintained her high level of performance in even greater venues. In an effort to gain further exposure, she sang live on the internet multiple times, and developed a devoted online fan base as a result. Capitalizing on her friendship with two other talented young women, she formed an R&B/Gospel group (Silhouette) that gave several local performances, one of which was sponsored by 106.7 FM WAMO. However, due to the divergence of career goals, the group soon parted ways. Sasha has since performed at a CD Release Party for the Boys and Girls Club of Western PA, a Pittsburgh Music Works-sponsored show at Club Caf, and other local events. In addition to live performances and her own self-produced recordings, her vocals have been featured on musical projects of numerous local rap artists. Currently a Pittsburgh resident, Sasha has complemented her talent as an artist with top-notch music production and engineering skills.

Co-Owns and operating her own home-based studio, Kolab Music Productions, she has helped many aspiring local musicians reach their artistic goals by producing high quality, industry-standard beats, overseeing completion of numerous demo projects, and engineering recording sessions. In 2003, Sasha helped one local artist, known as Freestyle, by providing vocal training, assisting in the development of his press kit, and serving as executive producer of his CD, Style Guidance, that has led to the artist signing with Def Jam. In December 2005, with the assistance of Producer/Engineer Ali Jackson, Sasha released a compilation CD featuring 20 of Pittsburgh's most talented artists showcasing their musical skills over all original, Kolab-made beats. More recently, Sasha has gradually shifted her focus from producing the music of other artists back to perfecting her own performing skills. She has continued to compose fresh new songs, and the recent years spent working on music as a writer/producer/sound engineer have allowed her to have a more holistic approach to original production. As a result, Sasha's most recent selections have a mature feel with a variety of well-developed styles. She has just completed/released "Incognito", a full length CD of her best current songs, and selected tracks were recently unveiled during a personal appearance at the upscale Club 720 in Chicago. The tracks met with rave reviews by the club management as well as the patrons present for the occasion. One of those tracks, Boy Next Door, qualified Sasha as a Finalist in the 2007 International John Lennon Songwriting Contest. On June 18, 2008 Sasha was featured in The New Pittsburgh Courier "Entertainer" section and has since been interviewed by Chris Moore on "Black Horizons" (Pittsburgh TV WQED) and by Timmy Willis of the "Timmy Willis Show" (PCTV). Negotiations are currently underway for radio play of several songs from the CD on hip-hop, pop and R&B stations in several major cities, as well as live performances. Tags: pop
