Folk, pop-oriented singer-songwriter guitarist. Mostly acoustic with a touch of electric. Influenced by Beatles, Springsteen, Paul Simon, et al. 12 MP3 Songs FOLK: Modern Folk, POP: Quirky Details: Singer-songwriter unusual. Would be the best description for this artist. Born towards the end of the 1950s, Tom has been using the times he's known and viewed and lived through to craft songs for almost 30 years. Yet, only a few people have heard and appreciated his songs. He writes a lot about hard hitting subjects as Nuclear Power, War and the inequalities of the social bureaucracies in the world, as well as heart-break, new and renewed love and a few quirky, happy bizarre songs. After 30 years, he has decided to put his songs to vinyl...err, CD. His first CD titled "Good Upbringing Gone Bad" is a mostly acoustic guitar and vocal with a touch of electronic tricks adventure through love, loneliness, heartbreak, new love, the world we know and the world we may have known. You will try but probably won't be able to compare his sound to any other.
