Aaron Christenson, born on the 21st day of May, was never a normal child. His passion for music combined with a great understanding of theory became evident at the mere age of five. From there he was tutored by a fine musical instructor and he grew with leaps and bounds until one day he was accepted to one of the world's greatest music schools, Berklee College of Music in Boston, Massachusetts. So now my friends and acquaintances, I give you this masterpiece; this heart warming, bitter-sweet composition inspired by the sometimes tortuous yet splendid life we live, Cold December. Some Words by the Artist: I would like you to think; close your eyes and let the music breath new life. Let this recording take you to the depths of your inner despair. Let it lead you to the high peaks of pleasure and ecstasy. Let it live with you and through you, for in me, it will always be; alive. Thank You- God Bless Aaron Christenson
