And you know what? It works a treat... we're in for great pop music, crispy guitars and nice beats. And what's even better, no one can say that they sound exactly like so and so... Belcaf are an indie band who have caused quite a stir with their second album "Primadonna". The band are a sassy Swiss gal on vocals and three English guys who somehow ended up in Zurich, Switzerland (that's another story...), decided to do a few gigs together and never looked back. Now this music has got to be different because this bunch don't care about trends and love to experiment with various music styles! It makes a refreshing change, the songs are quite unique in the way they're put together; repeat listening is strongly recommended! The group were awarded band of the month honours by the biggest Swiss radio station on the strength of their current album. The single "Love Is Out Of Town" made it on the play lists of sixteen major radios in Switzerland. Not only is the music appealing, the hands-on-attitude of the band has also made them a lot of friends. The uncensored online diary on the band's homepage will tell you more about the daily struggles of an indie band in Switzerland, short mp3 music samples, gig dates and a guest book also awaiting! Sly Hirschi: vocals and lyrics (Switzerland) Rikki Dunmore: guitars and songs (UK) Nick Thomas: drums, loops, percussion (UK) Ian Berryman: bass (UK)
