Details: Born in the year of the tiger, I came into this world at 15.15 on 11/11. That was the most organised thing I have ever done. Since then my life has been a never-ending-somewhat-chaotic trip. Moved 19 times I am not done yet lived in 5 cities, worked in different places and now finally approaching my life-long desire: Music. My debut album, The remains of the game, is about how fragile I feel when it comes to relating to other people. How vulnerable, how exposed. The 10 lyrics tell different stories about how some people have shaped my life. All in all, the writing and the composing proved to be an extraordinary therapy. And even the sad stories can make u laugh. I will never forget the making of the video Stockholm syndrome. It gave us a hard time to keep our faces straight and avoid laughter. That's how cathartic music can be. These days I am still playing the guitar and learning to play the piano. And I will keep on composing and writing. Hopefully, you will see yourself mirrored in some of my songs I expect the happy ones. And then, if that happens, I will have touched your heart. Thank you for letting me do it. Never ever ever ever give up hope. My very best wishes, Nat. Argentina, July 7 2008.
