Over an hour of various styles of cooking hip-hop and sympathetic electronic music from various Transparent Productions artists. From the underground up. 18 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Ambient, HIP HOP/RAP: Hip Hop Details: "Transparent Productions Presents..." (2005) is a collection of songs from artists in a collective called Transparent Productions. Wildly diverse in musical styles the artist still find common ground in the love for interactive and accessible music. Kingerg presents a unique view of suburban life with his intelligent and quick lyricism. Boosen brings to the table a sweet style of hip-hop that embraces many different influences. At times he's rough and tumble, at other times he's light hearted and fun. On the album you'll hear a fun and bouncing tune named "Fat people are happy" that will stick in your head. For strange new sounds that are born of a computer check out bubbles. On the compilation bubbles brings us "OK", a strange and bass heavy convergence of techno and experimental electronic music. The breaks of DJ Bootygravity will send you into a jungle frenzy. On the melodic side of electronic music waits Future Preachers Club. As a preview of things to come from FPC we hear "Slow Pull". This track recorded with him playing guitar and backed up by a myriad of electronic instruments. What is unique is the comfort with which the song exits your speakers, soft and heavy, clear and crisp. Absence brings you spacey Jupiter beats with his drum and bass influenced "V10". Not only is Absence an artist he is the producer extraordinaire of this project. Putting together this album from scratch Absence spent countless hours tweaking knobs and mastering tracks so you could hear high quality underground recordings. This compilation album appeals to a wide range of listeners. This album is perfect for a gathering of friends there is a song to entertain even the most discriminatory of listeners. It is also quite suitable to rock an inventive dinner party or any party for that matter. So give in to you desires. Correctly priced, this album will begin your access to the underground. Listen, we live your lives. Transparent
