A handcrafted album of modern acoustic folk-rock. Ingredients : vocal, guitar, string bass, violin, cello, drums, organ, piano. 10 MP3 Songs FOLK: Modern Folk, ROCK: Folk Rock Details: "The Last Cathedral" is Violet's follow up to their debut record "We Both Know It's Out There". Meredith Minogue and Jim Barry created Wine Vinyl Music in 2001 as a way to release their records. Violet plays modern folk. They live in Brooklyn, NY and record with a group of musicians. Antonio Graci - Drums and percussion Skip Ward-String and Electric Bass Joe McGinty - Piano, Hammond, other keyboards Leah Coloff - Cello Claudia Chopek - Violin Deni Bonet - Violin, Accordion For both of their records, Violet linked up with producer Adam Lasus, who had previously worked with Yo La Tengo, Helium, Clem Snide and Madder Rose. Adam's studio, a converted 19th century firehouse, proved the perfect setting for the duo to craft its blend of the old and new. "The Last Cathedral" is a modern album that recalls the analog warmth of the 60s and 70s.
