

Real Time: Accelerating Narrative From Balzac To Zola - David F. Bell

In Real Time David F. Bell explores the decisive impact the accelerated movement of people and information had on the fictions of four giants of French realism--Balzac, Stendhal, Dumas, and Zola. Nineteenth-century technological advances like the railway, increased use of mail and the optical telegraph radically changed the ways French citizens viewed time, space, distance, and speed. Citing examples from a wide range of novels and stories, Bell demonstrates the ways in which trends of acceleration became not just literary devices but also structuring principles of the novels themselves.
