Details: Attila and the Huns is a versatile pop/rock band whose original music, while in line with modern groups such as Less than Jake, Panic at the Disco and My Chemical Romance, evoke memories of past music pioneers such as Dick Dale, the Beach Boys, and even Bob Marley. For more than four years this band of brothers has been evolving their sound and stage show to enthusiastic crowds all over the Eastern U.S.A. The band has to-date written well over 100 songs and has released three full-length CDs as well as a very popular EP, with another CD release planned for later this year. Attila and the Huns consists of front-man and lead guitarist Kevin ODonnell, Drummer Andrew Roo ODonnell, Bassist Matt ODonnell and Rhythm Guitarist Phil ODonnell. All members of the band write and provide leads on the bands songs, providing a wide variety of styles and emotion. When a song calls for some horn riffs, all the members also play brass instruments, and lightning quick instrument changes have become a favorite staple of their shows. The band prides itself on its entertaining show, and more than one hundred venues have been pillaged by Attila and the Huns, and like Attila of old they plan to continue the campaign until the entire world takes notice.
