Downhome soft acoustic newfolk 12 MP3 Songs FOLK: like Joni, EASY LISTENING: Love Songs Details: These are a few of my early songs written mostly in the seventies and eighties. I began writing music almost as soon as I learned to play. When my older sister returned from college with a cheap acoustic guitar I immediately borrowed it and began to teach myself, I was 15 at the time. The writing just came naturally whatever I would contemplate simply turned into lyrics and music, when I layed down to sleep, was driving or just sitting quietly, I would hear the song in my head and then write it down and learn to play what I had heard, that was the most difficult part for at times I would hear a full orchestra. Sometimes they would come in my dreams and I would suddenly awaken with the thought that I'd better get up and write it down. At first my songs were sad until one day I got really tired of that and stopped right in the middle of a composition and declared I would not write any more depressing songs. My entire musical style changed that day and I began hearing things differently from a wiser part of my mind which often seemed to be beyond my emotional maturity, the wisdom came out of me before I was actually capable of living what I was saying. The title cut came to me in its entirety after I attended a concert by Micheal LeGrand at Grady Gammage in Tempe, it came so fast I could barely right it down quick enough, I was working on the movie American Anthem at the time and would scribble down verses between takes. Most songs were inspired by a situation that I either lived personally or observed and was moved by. Several of these songs are actual true stories from my life. People who are interested in Joan Baez Judy Collins should consider this download.
