Marc was born in the Western US, where he spent most of his youth involved in Scouting and Church activities, this included getting out into nature by any means he could. His outings included camping, boating, hunting and fishing with his scout troop and his family. When time and energy let him, Marc spends his days going on shorter trips to cool and unique places for his most current inspirations. He attributes most of the inspiration for his music to places he has actually visited. Marc says that each special place 'sings a song' to him and each carry their own spiritual message and special chord. Marc has visited many states and also a few countries, but the place he calls home right now is in the Pacific Northwest region of the United States. Marc states that almost all of his musical songs come forth during or shortly after his visit to a new region, city or area. He feels compelled to write music and compose instrumental songs that bring out the spirit of each place he visits. Marc currently resides in Portland, Oregon with his wonderful partner of 10 years. He spends his time writing and producing instrumental, ambient, new age style musical pieces. Marc has been working on a spiritual book entitled a 'Angels of Coincidence' which are true stories and compilations of his personal writings about self discovery and insights into our true purpose on earth. Angels of Coincidence is still being completed at this time. How he does his sound magic happen? Marc uses multiple synthesizer instruments, live Instruments and creative computer generated loops and sounds, all combine into a beautiful, ambient soundtrack of light energetic waveforms!
