There is a very easy process for the website owner. All one has to copy and paste AdSense code onto their website. The ads will appear immediately. At first, they will be generic advertisements. Often, they will be mere public service announcements. This is to buy time for the AdSense spiders as they crawl the publishers website. Once they crawl the site, they will determine what type of website it is. Then they will affix rotating advertisements that are in accordance with the subject matter of a website. For example, if the website deals with hunting and fishing, the spiders will pick up on this and the ads appearing on the sites will reflect hunting and fishing ads.
