Creative song writing and arrangements. Eric combines the styles of the many groups he produced over the years into his own unique blend of alternative and rock. 9 MP3 Songs ROCK: Acoustic, POP: Power Pop Details: Eric is best known as the music producer from the midwest who worked with many successful artists such as The Millions, Blue Moon Ghetto, Soul Support, Mercy Rule, Matt Banta, Casting Pearls and many more. He's recorded over 200 bands and many have gone on to bigger and better acclaim. Few knew, however, he wrote music himself. After a stint as guitarist with the Young Executives, he concentrated on producing most of the midwest's greatest bands. He then began a side project with the intent of 'cataloging a few tunes he'd been working on.' That project, released on Easter of 1999 was Worms For Sale. The project, never intended to go beyond its initial release, grew and took on a momentum of its own. With successful sales and even more success on the road, Eric and the band are continuing with a second project titled, "Shine". Shine is finished and in production and is due out soon. Watch for it. Eric draws upon many influences in his music. His love of song writing combined with his prowess behind the board help create songs with interest and a real joy of creation. The music is lyrical and thoughtful. He's not afraid to bowl the listener over with sheer size and depth in the music. He's equally talented when performing with a solo voice and guitar. Worms For Sale explores the whole gamut from top to bottom.
