Chris the composer of SCSOUNDS has been composing in various genres of music since 1996. He started his involvement in music at the young age of 12, where he began studying the art of drumming and the technique of "classical" piano. While studying classical music Chris decided to begin to write his own music and begin a college career to study composing and music recording. It was there that he found his gift and enjoyment for composing. He composes pieces for a variety of solo instruments and ensembles as well as electronica and dance music as you will hear on his Debut CD. This album was produced by just Chris at scsounds. One person one unique sound! Composed, Recorded, admired.
