Lo-fi electronica artists who make special sounds on their computers, like Wisteria Losenge and The Marlboro Chorus. Any good? Mainstream music is often so polished but here you get the feeling that these songs were intimately created in someone's loft. More art-fuck, less corporate. Caustic's rap feast "The 10th Bullet" makes it shine. " -GZW Associate Editor URB Magazine, April 2006 ===== "A wonderfully eclectic compilation of electro pop , broken beat electronics, and everything in between. Definitely for the curious. HIGHLY RECOMMENDED ERASOUL.COM" ===== "Radical Turf is a label that does not want to limit itself with musical boundaries. A colourful eclecticism and an attractive diversity that can be translated into analog sonorities, samples, acid sequences, downtempo rhythms, Middle Eastern elements, Drum and Bass syncopations, scratching, ambient passages, Hip Hop grooves, Techno pounding beats, deep Dub waves and organic instrumentation." DJ/Host Jean-Francois Fecteau, CFOU 89.1 FM -Trois-Rivieres-Ouest, Quebec, Canada
