All of my songs somehow relate to me, whether it's work, relationships, or family. Teenage life is hard for me because, soon, you'll be living life in the "Real World". I write these songs to help me overcome hard times. My dream is to be famous. I want people to hear me and see me. If I want that dream, I'm going to work hard. I'm going to audition for talent shows, make a CD, and attend anything that would help me get a hold of my dream.
