At the age of seven, she started to take vocal lessons and appear in community theater productions. As she got a little older she began to branch out and started to perform at dinner events, street fairs, malls, and benefits. At 16, she moved into the recording studio and made her first appearance on CD. Just a few months later she appeared on the Bent Pussycat Records Christmas Compilation Vol. 2 and this year she appears on Vol. 3 and the Best of Collection. Realizing that she wanted to make music and performing her career she started taking guitar lessons and writing her own music and lyrics at 17. In less then a year, she wrote enough material for a full length CD that was released in April 2003. The CD is titled Dare and contains 11 original songs composed by Christine Vaskas and Tom Cavanagh. The style of music varies from pop, country rock, rock and folk. When she's not in school or working in the recording studio, she makes time to still perform at coffee houses, theaters, open mics, clubs and to work as a model. Christine is Currently writing material for her next CD. Christine Vaskas is an artist that everyone should listen and watch out for. There is no doubt that with her talent and ambition she is destined to make a huge impact on the music industry.
