Details: THE MEOW BITS is a mostly solo affair by Justin Remer, leader of Elastic No-No Band (although ENB's bass player Preston Spurlock contributes to the opening track "Emotional Tourism"). It is the first EP credited to Elastic No-No Band, after 3 full-length releases. It contains 3 original songs and 2 covers. One cover is a Beach Boys song ("I'd Love Just Once To See You"). The other is a Beatles song ("I Want To Hold Your Hand"). It features guest appearances by anti-folk superstars Toby Goodshank (formerly of The Moldy Peaches; he sings and plays guitar on the Beach Boys cover) and Major Matt Mason USA (who not only produced most of this EP, but also provides distinctive finger snaps to the opening track "Emotional Tourism"). Some of these songs will probably end up on Elastic No-No Band's next full-length CD. But not all of them. This is available for download only. It's more special that way.
