Details: Being the spouse, siblings or parents of a musician is trying. Musicians Get lost in the subtleties of note sequences, doing them over and over until eureka, there is something that sounds great and voila, another outlet of expression. So a special thanks to anyone out there who has done their share of listening to the practicing musician. Going somewhere with the music is always a challenge. The music and lyrics is a tapestry capturing something beyond personal experience and the performance and talent of the musician. Re-creating a time, an era, or an ambiance is like a time machine, triggering the mind to remember. Not everyone is a John Lennon, Chris Martin or Bruce Cockburn, but with the age of the internet and the myriad of choices it offers, we can find unique treasures. We do it with art, fashion and dcor. We express ourselves. Where time has no continuity, where experience is a state of mind, where anything can happen and all is understood, we will find music to compel us.
