Brilliant jazz clarinet in a mainstream/bebop style. 11 MP3 Songs JAZZ: Bebop, JAZZ: Traditional Jazz Combo Details: SOMETHING OF A STAR ON CLARINET Jazz UK Mark began his musical training by earning a degree in music performance at the Royal Scottish Academy of Music. He moved to London to study on the postgraduate jazz course at the Guildhall School of Music after winning the Young Jazz Player of the Year Competition in 1991. Since leaving college Mark has worked in a wide range of musical settings including classical work and shows but is most at home in the jazz world. He has played in all of Londons top jazz venues and at jazz festivals up and down the country. A recent highlight was a weeks engagement at Ronnie Scotts with the John Critchinson Quartet opposite the Mingus Big Band. Marks own group features his clarinet and tenor with the brilliant guitar playing of Colin Oxley and is featured on his highly-rated CDs I Wont Dance and the brand new How My Heart Sings. Mark is a member of the Back To Basie Orchestra and the John Wilson Orchestra. He also enjoys appearing in a two-tenor Al and Zoot group with Jim Tomlinson and a two-clarinet Benny quintet with Julian Stringle. Mark was the featured soloist in a gala Tribute to Artie Shaw concert in Dublins National Concert Hall in January 2006. A hand-picked 26 piece orchestra accompanied Mark in scintillating performances of original Shaw arrangements including the infamous Interlude in Bb for clarinet and string quartet and Shaws virtuoso Concerto for Clarinet .The concert was such a great success that Mark was immediately invited back to perform a Benny Goodman programme in 2007.
