In today's musical climate of talent searches galore, finding a true voice that will last longer than just a moment can be overwhelming. What separates Arlene from other artists of her caliber is the fact that she is not seeking fame for fame's sake. Her heart's true desire is to achieve a major platform where she can spread the message of genuine hope and love that comes from her relationship with Jesus Christ. Arlene grew up with a twin sister in a musically and ministry oriented family in McAllen, Texas. Since the age of four, she has eagerly offered a song with a joyous and passionate heart. Throughout the years, Arlene's performing experience has helped her develop an energetic and urgent stage presence. During her teen years, she led worship for the youth ministry at her father's church, and eventually became a worship leader for the congregation. On a personal level, this young artist has a genuinely warm spirit, and is gifted in the way she relates to people. Arlene speaks to others with a focused ear on their needs and how she can encourage the Body of Christ. She loves the Lord and feels that her ministry through music is something God has planted in her since a very young age. Her dream is to blend music and lyrics that will jumpstart weary souls in the world with upbeat tunes and powerful, emotional ballads. Her style of ministry is also very versatile she can lead the entire congregation in worship or tailor her presentation to be more geared toward youth or women's events. Arlene says, "My one true reason for wanting to expose the gift that God has granted me is so that the world can see there is hope where there seems to be no hope and love where love never existed before." Arlene welcomes the opportunity to visit your church or any other venue that is willing to share the love of God through the music ministry God has entrusted to her.
