Loaded with different types of love songs and love storie songs telling you how to keep love and what to do when you are losing it or have lost it. 10 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Modern Country, COUNTRY: Traditional Country Details: "my main squeeze" is loaded with love songs. happy .. wonderful love .. also losing, yearning, heart breakin' and complicated situations. the man singing loves his main squeeze. he knows other men want her and women envy her. they make beautiful memories. her love light shines where ever she goes. her angel smile reaches to her toes. "gotta do something about you" she has the sweetest lips ever touched by a kiss. it's no wonder he feels like this. it's the strongest love he has ever been through. he needs her more as time passes on.. he would surely die if she left him alone. he belongs to her from his head to his toes. her caresses are long overdue. he has to do something about her. "just for today" a losing love song. living alone is terrible because all of her memories remain. his heart can't handle the pain. just for today he wants her to hold him and listen to what he has to say. home is cold and bare since she took his happiness away. if she doesn't love him anymore he wants her to pretend just for a day. "my dreams have all come true" this is a happy love song. she sings no other arms can hold me like the arms that belong to you. no other kiss can excit me. no other words can thrill me. you're the one i've waited for. my heart belongs to you. no one else can steal my heart. they wouldn't have a chance. i love it when you tell me my dreams are your dreams too. "every woman to her own thing" each woman loves for a different reason. this singer wants a man kind and strong. wants him to come home each night and always treat her right. some women treat a rambler like a king. she wants a man who puts her first.. blesses his family .. has nothing to hide. some women treat a drunkard and gambler like a king. if they can handle what that misery brings .. then every woman to her own thing. "i haven't had any complaints" this woman does her own thing and her friend worries about her. he doesn't like her sweet talk of her sexy wiggling walk. he's sure some day she will be hurt 'cause she's such a scandalous flirt. she listens to what he has to say but just can't see it his way .. and she's not about to be joining the saints 'cause she hasn't had any complaints. "just the thought" a hurting love song.he is miserable because he has lost his love. just the thought of wanting and needing her and he begins to ache. she promised love forever but forever only lasted 'til she found somebody new. just the thought of loving her the way he used to do and briefly he ignores the pain that she put him through. then reality sets in and he has to face the fact that there will never be someone to take her place. "what have i got to lose" he has lost his love.. and needs to start getting out with old friends and learning how to drive away the blues. stop letting it get him down. he will find someone new to love him and forget old memories that haunt him. he has to find a way to undo all his sorrows. he has really paid his dues. since she left him ... what has he got to lose? "make an exception" this girl wants to marry and is willing to make exceptions. she never liked a purple nose, big flat feet or baggy clothes. whistling always drives her nuts as well as stinky cigarette butts. slurpin' soup takes guts. doesn't like men short and fat or dirty old hats. snoring always turns her off also hates a hacking cough. she might get a fault or two and she'll admit it if she does.it's clear to her what she'll go through bit in this case she'll make an exception. "stop diggin'" this guy has a difficul time living and loving. his house payment's due.. his water bill too.. last poker night he had a diamond flush and lost the pot. now he can't pay his electric bill. he's on the brink of taking a drink. he'll put his body through the mill then he can't pay his insurance bill. he went out to lunch with his honey bunch and got that used up sucker hunch. she'll leave him soon .. what a bitter pill... that girl's his delinquent credit card bill. if you find yourself in a hole stop diggin'.
