We are the beings of light We are light. From the book of light within The Books of Sound, Light Mind Vol. 2 By Ken Nunoo I AM MORTAL I cannot stretch my hand to count the stars in the sky I am but a grain of sand on the earth The wind is my breathe, and to that I bow The salt of the sea sustains me, and to that I agree I was born out of flesh. Life is not mine to give and life is not mine take. And to that I accept I have heard the dialogue of the beings of sound, who call themselves nature. I have listened to the wisdom of the beings of mind, who call themselves angels. I have read the discourse of the beings of light, who call themselves light. What say I , to all these ? Who am I ? I am mortal And to that I bow, I agree, I accept. From The Books of Sound, Light Mind Vol.2 By Ken Nunoo
