Linda Book's folk music for kids features her humorous songs and musical stories and her band with mostly acoustic instruments. There are songs about dogs, cats, babies, and a unique view of potty training. 13 MP3 Songs KIDS/FAMILY: General Children's Music, FOLK: Traditional Folk Details: IN HER OVERALLS is a terrific collection of Linda Book's original songs. It's full of her long-time favorites. "The Overalls Song" is a country-western celebration of Linda's favorite clothing item. "Two Dogs Looking at Two Seals..." is a short little song with a very long title that is great for singing while walking along the beach. "Berry Pie" is about a vegetarian wolf and his porcine friend. "Preschooler's Lament" addresses potty training. The others run the gamut from funny to tender, from lullaby to wake-up, and from cat to dog. Linda's IN HER OVERALLS is a re-recording of her first album, which was originally done as a solo recording ten years earlier. Joining Linda is her long-time eclectic backup band, The Dog-Eared Pages. Band members are Robert Armstrong on accordion, banjo, guitar, and steel guitar; Jan Peters on mandola, mandolin, piano, and background vocals; Jeff Simons on electric bass and fretless electric bass; and Steve Book on drums and percussion.
