Their music is as unique as each individual member with musical influences ranging from Stevie Ray Vaughan, Jimi Hendrix, Incubus to personal family members. They work as a team to create the music that flows through their souls. Lost Element is currently performing in and around the Houston, Austin, San Antonio and Southwestern Louisiana area. They are working to develop a regional fan base with visions of national exposure. The band was formed as a result of a desire to enter a High School Talent Show in 2001. Lost Element has been a team ever since, working hard on their musicianship and songwriting skills. Band members draw on personal experiences and emotions for their diverse songwriting talents. Their musical alliance is a strong and impassioned one, igniting a high-energy performance at each show. Each member brings their own brand of talent and skills to the team. The tracks for their debut CD "Somewhere In Between" were recorded and mixed at Digital Services in Houston, TX with Producer, Victoria Didrikson Betts and Engineer, Mark Kidney.
