Details: Russian-American romantic composer Ven G. Olac was born on july 4 ,in Yasnogorsk,Russia. He received his degree in piano from Music school of art Mussorskogo in 1974 , and , upon graduating did not go into classical music as a pro fession , despite the best intentions of his father , retired military Chinese translator capitan Goudoukine . Because of my older sister was a concertmaster of a local orchestra in town . The education in Russia as well as in USA was never satisfied my ambition , because they do not teach from within to forward , so there is no process of self unfold , that is what hold the education back . He's moved to St.Petersburg , where he was a military constraction officer . After studies at the University of St.Petersburg he began performing on the stage very often as a pianist and a song writer.He moved to Los Angeles where his writing increased and his mind got unfold as a flower . He studied at the University of California Los Angeles under instruction of Scott Smaley . Wrote a piano version classical ballet " The Little Swan " based on the folk story " The Ugly Duckling " and much , much more ... This work " The Casual Friday " is in one fluid movement in D and has what I call the " self-conscious accordion " weaving througout the orchestral textures . I would identify this work as a suite for Jazz Orchestra - with a slight bent towards satire . Each week we religiously wait for the weekend , that is ... Friday , to celebrate life , freedom and ... happiness . This is ... A Casual Friday .
