An original script created by my10biz YOU WONT FIND THIS ANYWHERE ELSE About linkhider Discover how this simple, little known script can save you thousands of dollars in lost Affiliate revenue. Its so simple its a wonder why no-one has ever thought of it before! (Well some people may have but where do you find it?) Do you lose out on your Affiliate commisions because no-one will click on a link that goes on forever? Example affiliatewebsite/yourname/affiliateprogramname/ref=?123456789/youraffiliateprogramname.html Well no wonder! It puts people off: a) Because they know its an affiliate site b) Because they know you are making money out of it c) Because they think if they go straight to the site theyll get whatever it is cheaper d) They make a point not to trust Affiliates because they think its a scam Well, those days are over. There are pieces of software out there that charge you "X" amount to do the job but assumes you are pasting the code into your web page and if youre not - youre stuck. If you are posting links in forums, blogs or ezines, they only allow a link. This script is also a great assett when buying website visitors from traffic programs. Sometimes when you enter a long Affiliate link, some of it is lost or broken up and you lose sales. Free url shortening services do exist but some have a bad reputation for allowing users to direct visitors to shall we say "Disreputable" websites and sometimes, the shortened url isnt that much shorter. You can also get free sub-domains but they do have terms and conditions to follow and some of the sub-domain names are laughable and customers probably wont take you seriously. Its best, if you have your own domain name to use it. Some free software require that you sign up for newsletters etc. Some have on-line shorteners but you need to be able to paste the code in your webpage (If you have one) There are even pages that will tell you how to hide your link for free (if you can understand it) but are so complicated you give up because despite your activities on the internet you still havent completely mastered the ins and outs of html coding. Of course there is always the reliable web forwarding (if your web host allows) which will redirect any page you own but you have to enable web redirection which then re-writes the htaccess file on your server (youre lost already!) and assumes that it is a normal webpage but when you look at the htaccess file, the lines are broken so the Affiliate link wont work. So after trial and error of trying to hide your links and paying out a lot of money in software, there comes the daunting task of advertising your link because if you dont, you are not going to get any visitors. You wont get any commissions so youve wasted money for nothing. If you rely on search engines you may find they wont index a page that is not a top level domain or sub-domain, especially if it has a trailing slash / after it. You will end up at the bottom of the pile. The answer to your advertising needs lies in Web Directories or Classified Ad Sites. Submitting your Affiliate site will get visitors who are actually looking for whatever you are promotion because they are more focused and dont return as many results. However, to get your site accepted, directory owners usually only allow top-level or sub-domains but some will allow inner pages or deep links. Then you are back to square one. You still need to hide your link. You still need to follow the individual guidelines of the directories but there is a way to get round the "No inner pages or deep-links" policy and to get indexed in the search-engines. If you decide to go ahead and purchase this simple but effective script - youll kick yourself for not thinking of it first. You will need to be able to upload a file to your web hosting account. You could even upload it to a free account if they allow. You will also need to be able to set up a sub-domain. A sub-domain is yourname.yoursite.com. A good way to name your sub-domain is to match the topic of your Affiliate site. If you dont have access to upload files, be able to use php extensions or create sub-domains, then this script is not for you so please consider these factors before you purchase. You should also check with your Affiliate profgam that they allow directly referred visitors and they do not just allow visitors who have clicked on an actual link for your account to be credited. This script is by no means intended to defraud any potential customers and should not be used as such. You should put a disclaimer in your website description when you submit to directories that it is an Affiliate program but it will cover you in the " No inner pages or deep links" department. So, stop losing money and start earning it. You dont need any special skills to use this script - you dont have to install any software and its not complicated!
