She is currently the President and CEO of "USSMC", a management consulting and information technology firm. From her conception, Brenda's parents, Earl and the late Georgia Campbell (who recently passed on January 28, 1999) believed that she was destined to sing. Her upcoming release is dedicated to her mother. During her early years, this belief was fulfilled as she participated in elementary, secondary, and high school choirs. During this time, Brenda studied with Ms. Doris Clanton and Mr. Paul A. Gatlin---two of Washington, DC's most renowned conductors. She completed her first recording, "This Little Light of Mine", as a member of the Sousa Junior High School Choir. While at Spingarn Senior High, Brenda was voted "Miss Homecoming Queen" due impart to a rousing rendition of "Summertime". In 1964, Brenda joined the 2nd New St. Paul Gospel Chorus and later became the Musical Director for the Youth Church and started such groups as the "Singing Angels" which grew to the "Second New Saint Paul Children and Youth Choir". She was the Youth Choir Director for about twelve years. It was during this time that Brenda also began performing with her family's group "The Gladenneers". With a mother and father who both had melodious voices, Brenda gives much of this credit to her parents for teaching her at an early age how to sing for the Lord and bring out her God given talents. The family toured the East coast and were often compared to the Staple Singers because of her father's guitar playing style and the family's soul-stirring musical presentations. Furthering her academic studies, Brenda attended the University of the District of Columbia, Hampton Institute, Bowie University and graduated from Howard University's Graduate School of Social Work, Social Services Management Program in May, 1987. During her college years, Brenda was Second Runner-up in the "Miss UDC Pageant" and First Runner-up in the Miss Black DC Pageant. In both pageants, Brenda's tremendous vocal talent highly contributed to her winning scores. Brenda has performed throughout the United States and abroad. Her recording credits include background vocals for "I've Got Something to Shout About" by Frank Hooker and "Until the Rapture" By the late Donald Vails Salvation Corporation---both nationally released projects. She has also done ensemble work with such great artist as Tramaine Hawkins, Daryl Coley, Darius Brooks, Thomas Whitfield, Rev. Richard " Mr. Clean" White, Cissy Houston, and Della Reese. Major stage performance to her credit include: "Light Song I" (October, 1986) and "Light Song II" (October, 1987), both at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, and "Night of Music, filmed at the Lincoln Memorial and aired in Europe for the American Folk Music Festival. She continues to lend her voice for many occasions. Brenda is a member of From the Hearts Church Ministry, under the spiritual guidance of Drs. John and Dianna Cherry. Until the start of this ministry, Brenda was a Psalmist and a member of From the Hearts Church Ministry Mass Choir. Her favorite scripture is Isaiah 54:17 "No Weapon". Brenda has been musically inspired by many artists including: Vanessa Bell Armstrong, Patti Labelle, Whitney Houston, Sarah Vaughn, the late Donnie Hathaway, the Winans, Tramaine Hawkins, Take6, Nancy Wilson, and the late Minnie Riperton. Because it all belongs to the Lord, when she is not listening to gospel music, Brenda listens to a variety of jazz artists. She uses this inspiration to inspire others through her own unique vocal gift and musical presentation. Brenda is currently under management with Isaac's Vision Publishing/Enhancement Productions and seeking the attention of Record Company Executives to help her to spread the Lord's music ministry throughout the world.
