Instrumental electric guitar rock 14 MP3 Songs BLUES: Electric Blues, BLUES: Rockin' Blues Details: WARNING! Except for "Did Jerry Do the Flute", listening to more than any three or four tracks in succession is NOT recommended. If a listener should experience or display any discomfort, disorientation, discoloration, discombobulation, dismantling, or dismay, IMMEDIATELY play any of the "Did Jerry Do the Flute" excerpts until listener exhibits signs of recovery. All instruments on "Did Jerry Do the Flute" played by Solrac, off the cuff ad hoc impromptu. The "E" songs are basically just that, experiments with improvisation based on the key of E. Etheria just sort of transpired... E, etc. kinda crept up and slowly went into mild overdrive. Earl is a bit of a "booty shaker". EtherialaDaBlues may not be all that "etherial" but it sure is "Da Blues". For some ears, each of the songs in Digital Crickets, "Wild n Crazy", "LarvaBellum", and "Dissonant Crickets" has a reward at the end. They stop. All music written, performed, recorded, engineered, and produced, fed and nurtured by Lloyd Page "Did Jerry Do the Flute" excerpts and congas and cocktail set on "Earl" performed by Solrac. Recorded at Kirkwood Studio, 70 Kirkwood Drive, Delaware, OH 43015
