"The great outdoors and songwriting have been a great combination for me" says Crittenden. It seems that many of the original concepts from Michael's songs were formulated while spending time amongst his native Michigan's rivers, lakes or forests. "I like to celebrate the moods and wonders of nature as they relate to everyday life". Crittenden is also the founding member and chief songwriter of the group Troll for Trout. Michael's songs have been heard on dozens of radio stations across the country as well as on MTV, ABC and PAXnet television. A graduate of the Berklee College of Music in Boston, MA, Michael has performed most of his life. He has shared the stage with the likes of John McVey, Shawn Mullins, Jonatha Brooke, Hootie the Blowfish, The Doobie Brothers, Peter Frampton, Tom Prasada-Rao, and Kenny Wayne Shepard among others. In addition to writing and performing, Michael is the owner of The Mackinaw Harvest Music Group, Inc, a recording studio and publishing company, and works with numerous other artists as a producer and publisher. After the success of four full length CDs with Troll for Trout, "Live at One Trick Pony" is Crittenden's first solo effort. "I've been playing this club solo now for about 4 years, and every time it seems more magical" says Crittenden. "I wanted to see if we could capture some of that on a record."
