Their up-tempo sound knocks down social, economic, and racial barriers to reveal a style all their own. "...We're kind of like watching Outkast versus Eminem in the WWE. Energetic, clever, captivating, and exciting." "The Soundtrack" marks the progressive development of the NONP sound after Nonpareilyx's first indie release of "No Equal" in 2001. It's relentless and positive energy has been contagious, and has served as a crisp alternative to most Hip Hop being created today. "Our music has given us direction when we had none." shared Breinchild. "It saved us from homelessness and jail, and allowed us to live more and more of our dream every day.
