Since its explosion onto the scene in 2004, CityMusic Cleveland has won cheering audiences with its beautiful music, brilliantly performed. You'll find the musicians' joy to be contagious and the music irresistible. 8 MP3 Songs CLASSICAL: Orchestral, CLASSICAL: Romantic Era Show all album songs: Beethoven, Respighi, Rossini, Mascagni Songs Details: CityMusic Cleveland is a professional chamber orchestra, founded in 2004 to develop audiences and build communities through the arts. The high quality of CityMusic concerts has been acclaimed by critics, with reviews describing the performances as magical ... blissful ... an electrifying meeting of music and musicians. Popular response has been equally enthusiastic, requiring the orchestra to find ever larger venues to accommodate their audiences. CityMusic Cleveland holds the conviction that musicians and artists play an important role in creating and transforming communities. Studies by the Urban Institute show that involving the arts in community development can improve neighborhood pride, stewardship of place, economic development, transmission of cultural values and history, public safety, and bridge cultural/ethnic/racial boundaries. The charismatic young conductor James Gaffigan is CityMusic Cleveland's Music Director. Having won the prestigious Sir Georg Solti Conducting Prize at the age of 25, he served for three years as Assistant Conductor of the Cleveland Orchestra. Now he divides his time between duties as Associate Conductor of the San Francisco Symphony, under Michael Tilson Thomas, Music Director of CityMusic Cleveland, and guest conducting engagements around the world. CityMusic Cleveland's 35 musicians are all highly-trained artists whose resumes include the most prestigious music schools and festivals, competitions and awards.
