Dannys heart is in his music inspired as a little boy. Music motivated his desires in song writing by watching his uncles sitting around backyard bong-fires singing oldies at family barbecues and gatherings. He was especially fond of one uncle Robert Alcares who taught Danny how to play the guitar at an early age of fourteen years old. Coming from a stable life of a lower poor class family born and raised in the Barrio, life was never easy for Danny; tough times were then and yet more to come. Struggling through domestic and gang violence, partys, drugs , drinking and drive-by's he grew up watching his friends slowly but surely die one by one due to this type of lifestyle. Although this didnt stop Danny. The tougher life became, the harder he pushed. This only drove Dannys inhibitions of believing in the American Dream. Danny made it out of the barrio by following through with his belief's. Dannys ambition escalated from the early age of fourteen applying and working as a chicken ranch laborer consisting of 30,000 chickens which involved feeding,cleaning and gathering eggs. Fast food restaurants were not a miss yet realizing as a young adult that life was a struggle and life is what you make of it. Thats all there is to it! So unless he wanted to flip hamburgers and worry about where his next meal would come from as he grew older Danny quit. He had skills for which he applied them by getting himself hired as an assistant for an Auto Body Shop repairing , painting and detailing vehicles. In being the hard working and attentive person that Danny is , he also is a perfectionist and quickly mastered these skills , saved his money thus starting his first business Dannys Auto Body. Again saving to relocate to another business area and specializing in this profession with any type of vehicle. Saving money is another one of Dannys fine attributes which led to Danny buying his first tow truck. Following his challenging path of life which is where he is at today investing in buying property seeing the prosperity of its location and opening Dannys Towing Company from scratch with help of his mom and family building the company to a very successful business today. In between the many obstacles of lifes ups and downs he squeezed a Limousine Service in and was a boxing promoter for "Inland Empire Amateur Boxing" with the idea to break gang violence and keep kids off drugs and off the streets. The National Orange Show Speedway was another one of many hangouts for Danny. Racing stock cars in more than three events at a time and winning and accumulating the number of awards and trophies he has racing his cars for thirteen years and finally winning the championship title. Danny also participated in a many number of community events playing in a band and driving his race cars in parades for drug awareness and the prevention of drug abuse. In addition, throughout Dannys many achievements, home is where the heart is , music. Danny took music lessons in guitar and keyboard piano. Performing in a band live on stage still did not satisfy his thirst and hunger to write songs so he drifted on his own which brings to date Dannys desire to starting a new business of Eternal Life Productions in the creation of music. Hes an artist ,a musician , songwriter and co-produces his original songs of two new albums consisting of twenty five songs about life, happiness, and peace.
