"My Bloody Valentine meets Andre 3000" "dutch rall has created an evocative and chilling sound... brilliant." austin chronicle. "lanois/ buckley... brooding late-night music." besonic.com 8 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Down Tempo, ELECTRONIC: Pop Crossover Details: "dutch rall's rich voice bursts into jeff buckley falsetto while his low-register david bowie crooning resurrects shivers of over stimulation." synthesis unique harmonies. down tempo beats. vast soundscapes. a work without compromise. dutch grew up listening to his family's collection of sinatra and zeppelin records, as well as soundtracks to coppola films until discovering prince and the blue nile. then peter gabriel forced him to plunge into world-beat and he all but lost himself in a never-ending eno/ lanois loop. finally massive attack made him move and jeff buckley stirred his soul. all of these influences can be felt on 12 past midnight. "brooding late-night music." besonic.com "already a pioneer, shining a new light" gods of music 12 past midnight written, arranged, produced and performed by dutch rall 2003 all rights reserved
