The first visual memory I have is that of the white upright piano in Singapore (the one my Father ultimately took an Axe to!) Hell and the dark forces lived at the bottom, Heaven and the Angels at the top. They would play battles through my fingers and I was hooked. If you know me, you know that I play the piano, it's just something I do: in people's houses, bars, shows, etc. I take one with me and am a shadow of myself when I do not play for extended periods. Music2Work2 is the product of my passion for the piano, for the keyboard, for music. I believe that listening to music is "good for you," like air, food and sex. I know that this music helps me think, create and write, I find that it keeps me in the moment and helps to concentrate. My hope is that it has a similar effect on others.
