Inspired mainly by acoustic background music on well-written television shows (My So-Called Life, Dawson's Creek, Felicity, etc.), The Autumn Skylight's "Someday We'll Meet Somewhere" is a treat for the ears and heart. Mellow and ambient, the music has been described as highly visual, evocative, and romantic. Chris is probably best-known for his work with Jenna Ferone as trip-hop duo Beauty's Confusion. He is also the drummer for indie rock trio The Borough (EP available here at cdbaby) and Chris also works with several Philadelphia-based bands and singer/songwriters as producer and co-writer.
