The Hydrotones fuse '60's surf riffs, aggressive blues guitar, and cool jazz horns together for explosive sonic results. 8 MP3 Songs ROCK: Surf Rock, JAZZ: Free Jazz Details: The Hydrotones - "Hydrophonics USA".... "This is a brave, challenging CD with a difference which will reward those adventurous enough to seek it out." - Pipeline Instrumental Review (UK)... "More from the talented Bill Bechtel with a whole series of new originals this time in group format on what he describes as surf/blues/jazz - quite a combination. It's saxy and brassy with guitars, bass and drums driving it along at the same time. Unusual and fun album and well worth listening to - some of it is like a super rock hip Herb Alpert's Tijuana Brass! Excellent musicianship. *** " - Davy, New Gandy Dancer (Issue 69)... Phil Dirt of Reverb Central on the track "Pachyderm Picasso": "Metal elephants dry chop and grind under edgy guitar until the break comes along, which has an elongated exotic feels to it, almost island adventurous." ... "A very unique album and it's nothing short of fantastic. I love the catchy rhythms and the great sax. Not many of the current surf and intro bands use saxophone, but it's one of my favorite components to many of the vintage surf and intro songs. The sound quality is excellent and the songs are fresh and interesting." - Tom Hinders, The Tsunami Soul Show ...
