From upbeat electric rock with catchy licks to acoustic whims, Brett's revelations will revv you up and gently lay you down, over and over. In the spirit of Brendan Benson to Beatles, Rufus Wainwright to Jeff Tweedy, Brett's voice will captivate and leave you wanting more and more. Brett Mitchell was born (too late) and raised in Midland, Michigan. He taught himself to play drums at age 14 and was traveling and playing professionally by age 17. While part of the award winning band, Gutbucket, he began honing his writing skills. Brett taught himself guitar at age 18 and the next 5 or so years were spent writing, going to college and playing in various bands. In 2005, with a studio gift certificate for 4 hours of recording, he began recording what eventually became his debut CD, {Stereo}, and his continued future in music was inevitable. Brett now lives in Small House, inspiration for the new album. He eats organic, recycles and loves kitties. Michigan Singer/Songwriter Brett Mitchell, along with his band, the giant GHOST, are creating quite a buzz in the midwest. In 2006, Brett won Artist of the Year from Saginaw's Review Magazine. You and your band are one of the best I have seen since I have been back from Los Angeles. Jeff Amato, Independent Music Promotion Executive VIS*ABILITY Brett provides vocals electric/acoustic guitar and giant GHOST band member, Tim Puckett, of Clio, MI, supports on keys, lap steel, banjo, electric guitar and harmonica (you've never heard real harmonica playing until you've heard Tim) while Mike Cramton, a Saginaw, MI native, (of Robert Bradley Blackwater Surprise fame) supplies tender vocal harmonies and the best in percussion support. Recently Bill Hall, also from Saginaw, MI, has come on board, with his amazing bass intuition, completing the fantastically tight and mesmerizing Brett Mitchell live sound. The versatility of this band is the reason Brett Mitchell's schedule is always full.
