Details: Megan has been entertaining since the early age of 7 when she began taking Tap and Jazz classes in her hometown of Wilmington, DE. During her younger years, she performed in local talent shows, recitals and plays. At the age of 11, Megan met with Kathy Wickline, from Kathy Wickline Casting located in Philadelphia. Kathy informed Megan that she had the potential and knew she would go far in the business. From there Megan signed with Mary Ann Claro Talent Agency and Sam's Kids Talent Mgmt. She was sent on auditions in Philadelphia and New York City, landing roles in Independent Films and Web Videos. In late 2007, Megan signed with Barbizon Modeling Agency and started taking classes in modeling and acting. She was then invited to attend IMTA Los Angeles 2008. Preparing for this competition, she trained with acting coaches Patrick Johnson(Los Angeles) and Bob Luke(New York.) At IMTA she competed in acting, modeling, singing and dancing. She won awards in each of these categories including 2nd runner-up for Most Sought After Talent, having 28 callbacks. Megan competed against 300 people and made it to the Top 5 Showcase for Singing , in front of numerous agents and music producers. She wowed the audience calling her "Little Girl with Big Voice." Winning 2nd-runner up, she signed with Marc MDoc Williams, accomplished music executive and producer, from Indasoul Records. In June '08, Megan recorded three original songs in Marcs' California Studio, including the popular 'Out of Site Girls.' In the summer, Megan attends Delaware Theatre Company to continue her education in acting. During this time, she performs in several plays. Now at the age of 14, she is an accomplished singer/actress/model and dancer. She is dealing with the stressful life of high school, while still leaving time to enjoy music and hang with friends! She is working on sending her demo to any industry contacts and performing in front of her amazing fans!
