Only in his first year of writing he has developed into a great poet, he has gone from scribing to self producing his first album. His strong, yet mellow voice opens the door to his cozy life suite and encourages the listener to stay awhile. The promise of thought provoking commentary is the main source of attraction. Truths masterful use of metaphors which effectively connects past and present confirms that he is, destined to be great from the start of the race. Listeners are almost assuredly going to hit rewind a couple of times to try to pull strength from his essence. Truth was slapped into life on April 18, 1973 in New Orleans La. and raised abroad in Israel from the age of seven. Since he started doing spoken word in the earlier part of 2007 he has performed at the Negro League Cafe' and Lunar Cafe' in Chicago. Truth is an artist in every since of the word, from uterus to mic he continues to rise. This is Truth's debut album, may his words vibrate every ear that has the power to hear for the Truth has arrived.
