The main purpose of this ebook is to answer those questions - and others, to show you just how easy it is to write articles. Literally anyone with a computer can do it. It doesn't make any difference whether you have ever previously written a word in your life. As with anything else in life, taking action and actually getting started is the hardest part. Your first article will take the longest to write. Once you have done one and seen how really easy it is, the second one will be much quicker, the third faster than the second and so on.
