We have just completed a new chapter. Mac Suazo and I were the original and founding members of XIT. Native American rock was created in the early 70's and first recorded by Motown Records. Tom Bee co-authored, what was to become a national phenomena, "Plight of the Redman", currently distributed on the SOAR record label. I was the lead vocalist and lead guitarist of the group and was honored by having to record the vocal session in the legendary studio "Hitsville".
