Even as a toddler he loved listening to his favorite songs and by the age of five he was especially fond of Elvis Presley. It was evident that he was going to be an entertainer because he began singing and dancing with a lot of enthusiasm. School was a great setting for Brock to explore his performance skills. In kindergarten he was showing off for his classmates, teachers and any parents who would stop and watch. He was always in the mood to put on a show. Amidst a packed schedule of musical and sporting activities, Brock has always been an excellent student. Straight As are the norm. Brock's favorite subjects include science, math and of course, choir. Brock is currently in Chamber Choir and a member of Fast Forward which is the school's performance group. Brock has always been extremely comfortable on stage since the 3rd grade when he captured the lead role of Leo the Lion in ITS A JUNGLE OUT THERE. That was only the beginning. Since that time he has played roles such as Danny in GREASE and Troy in HIGH SCHOOL MUSICAL. Brock credits his dabbling in Karaoke as his launch pad into pursuing show business. He was a big hit at the Karaoke Country Club where he began singing to teen and adult audiences. The more mature audience response was phenomenal. From this Brock began to get offers to perform at area fairs and festivals. Private lessons with a vocal coach led Brock to performing with a group called SING! SING! SING! for Children's Miracle Network. Brock experienced yet another dimension of performing. Since that time Brock has learned to write music, play the guitar and now has formed his own band. Brock recently returned from being featured on Nashville Spotlight, a television show filmed in Nashville that features up and coming teen artists. Brock would like to attend Belmont University in Nashville, TN to continue his music studies after he graduates from high school.
